Data Protection Policy

1. Introduction

- 1.1. We need to gather and use information or 'data' about you as part of our business and to manage our relationship with you. This Policy sets out the things we must tell you about data protection.
- 1.2. We take the security and privacy of your data seriously and intend to comply with our legal obligations under the Data Protection Act 2018 (2018 Act) and the UK General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) in respect of data privacy and security.
- 1.3. This Policy applies to current and former employees, workers, volunteers, apprentices, contractors, concessionaires and consultants. If you fall into one of these categories, then you are a 'data subject' for the purposes of this Policy. You should read this Policy alongside your contract and any other notice we issue to you from time to time in relation to your data.
- 1.4. We have separate policies and privacy notices in place in respect of job applicants, customers, suppliers and other categories of data subject. Copies can be obtained from Human Resources.
- 1.5. The Company is a 'data controller' for the purposes of your personal data. This means that we decide how and why we process your personal data.
- 1.6. This Policy explains how we will hold and process your information. It explains your rights as a data subject. It also explains your obligations when obtaining, handling, processing or storing personal data in the course of working for, or on behalf of, the Company.
- 1.7. This Policy does not form part of your contract. We reserve the right to update this Policy at any time. It is intended that this Policy is fully compliant with the 2018 Act and the GDPR. If any conflict arises between those laws and this Policy, the Company intends to comply with the 2018 Act and the GDPR.

2. Data protection principles

- 2.1. Personal data must be processed in accordance with the following 'data protection principles.' It must:
 - a Be processed fairly, lawfully and transparently
 - b Be collected and processed only for specified, explicit and legitimate purposes
 - c Be adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary for the purposes for which it is processed
 - d Be accurate and kept up to date. Any inaccurate data must be deleted or rectified without delay
 - e Not be kept for longer than is necessary for the purposes for which it is processed
 - f Be processed securely

2.2. We are responsible for ensuring and demonstrating compliance with these principles.

3. How we define personal data

3.1. 'Personal data' means information which relates to a living person who can be identified from that data (a 'data subject') on its own or when taken together with other information which is likely to come into our possession. It includes any expression of opinion about the person and an indication of the intentions of us or others in respect of that person. It does not include anonymised data.

3.2. This Policy applies to all personal data, whether it is stored electronically, on paper or in/on other materials.

3.3. This personal data might be provided to us by you or by someone else (such as a former employer, your doctor or a credit reference agency), or it could be created by us. It could be provided or created during the recruitment process or during the course of your contract, or after it has ended. It could be created by your line manager or other colleagues.

3.4. We will collect and use the following types of personal data about you:

- a Recruitment information, such as your application form and CV, references, qualifications and membership of any professional bodies and details of any pre-employment assessments.

- 6.3. We can process your personal data for the purposes listed directly above without your knowledge or consent. We will not use your personal data for an unrelated purpose without telling you about it and the legal basis that we intend to rely on for processing it.
- 6.4. If you choose not to give us certain personal data, we may not be able to carry out some parts of the contract between us. For example, if we do not have your bank account details, we may not be able to pay you. It might also prevent us from complying with certain legal obligations and duties, such as paying the right amount of tax to HMRC or making reasonable adjustments in relation to any disability you may have.

7. Examples of when we might process your personal data

- 7.1. We have to process your personal data in various situations during your recruitment, employment (or engagement) and even following termination of your employment (or engagement).

7.3. We will only process special categories of your personal data (see above) in certain situations in accordance with the law. For example, we can do so if we have your explicit consent. If we ask for your consent to process a special category of personal data, then we will explain the reasons for our request. You do not need to consent and can withdraw consent later if you choose to by contacting Human Resources.

7.4. We do not need your consent to process special categories of your personal data when we process it for the following purposes:

- a Where it is necessary for carrying out rights and obligations under employment law.

7.6. We do not take automated decisions about you using your personal data or use profiling in relation to you.

8. Sharing your personal data

- 8.1. Sometimes, we might share your personal data with our consultants, contractors and agents to carry out our obligations under our contract with you or for our legitimate interests.
- 8.2. We require those people and companies to keep your personal data confidential and secure and to protect it in accordance with the law and our policies. They are only permitted to process your data for the lawful purpose for which it has been shared and in accordance with our instructions.
- 8.3. Legitimate interests may include but are not restricted to Human Resources, Payroll, Health and Safety, and Financial Auditing.
- 8.4. We do not send your personal data outside the European Economic Area. If this changes, we will tell you. We'll also explain the protections that are in place to protect the security of your data.

9. How should you process personal data for the Company?

- 9.1. Everyone who works for, or on behalf of, the Company has some responsibility for ensuring data is collected, stored and handled appropriately, in line with this and other relevant policies.
- 9.2. The Company's Data Protection Officer (DPO) is responsible for reviewing this Policy and updating the Board on the Company's data protection responsibilities and any risks in relation to the processing of data. You should direct any questions in relation to this Policy or data protection to the DPO.
- 9.3. You should only access personal data covered by this Policy if you need it for the work you do for, or on behalf of the Company and only if you are authorised to do so. You should only use the data for the specified lawful purpose for which it was obtained.
- 9.4. You should not share personal data informally.
- 9.5. You should keep personal data secure and not share it with unauthorised people.
- 9.6. You should regularly review and update personal data which you have to deal with for work. This includes telling us if your own contact details change.
- 9.7. You should not make unnecessary copies of personal data, and you should keep and dispose of any copies securely.
- 9.8. You should use strong passwords.
- 9.9. You should lock your computer screens when not at your desk.

- 9.10. Personal data should be encrypted before being transferred electronically to authorised external contacts. [Speak to IT for more information on how to do this].
- 9.11. Consider anonymising data or using separate keys/codes so that the data subject cannot be identified.
- 9.12. Do not save personal data to your own personal computers or other devices.
- 9.13. Personal data should never be transferred outside the European Economic Area except in compliance with the law and with the authorisation of the DPO.
- 9.14. You should lock drawers and filing cabinets. Do not leave documents that contain personal data on your desk or anywhere else that can be accessed by unauthorised people.
- 9.15. You should not take personal data away from Company's premises without authorisation from your line manager or the DPO.

- 9.19. It is a criminal offence to conceal or destroy personal data which is part of a subject access request (see below). This conduct would also amount to gross misconduct under our [Disciplinary Policy], and you could be dismissed.
- 9.20. Ensure adequate training in data protection is conducted on support staff or someone covering your normal duties such as during annual holidays.

10. How to deal with data breaches

- 10.1. If this Policy is followed, we should not have any data breaches. But if a breach of personal data occurs (whether in respect of you or someone else), then we must take notes and keep evidence of that breach. If the breach is likely to pose a risk to the rights and freedoms of individuals, then we must notify the Information Commissioner's Office within 72 hours, where feasible. If the breach is likely to result in a high risk to your rights and freedoms, then we will let you know about it.
- 10.2. If you are aware of a data breach, then you must contact the DPO or in the first instance your line manager immediately and keep any evidence you have in relation to the breach.

11. Subject access requests

- 11.1. Data subjects can make a 'subject access request' (SAR) to find out what information we hold about them. This request must be made in writing. If you receive a SAR, you should forward it immediately to the DPO who will coordinate a response.
- 11.2. To make a SAR in relation to your own personal data, you should write to the DPO. We must respond within one month unless the request is complex or numerous, in which case the period in which we must respond can be extended by up to two months.

- 11.3. There is no fee for making a SAR. However, if your request is manifestly unfounded or excessive, we may charge a reasonable administrative fee or refuse to respond to your request. We normally work on the basis that any request which will take more than a day to deal with is likely to be manifestly excessive, and in those circumstances, we believe a reasonable charge is one working day's salary for you.

12. Your data subject rights

- 12.1. You have the right to information about what personal data we process, how we process it and on what basis, as set out in this Policy.
- 12.2. You have the right to access your own personal data by way of a SAR (see above).
- 12.3. You can correct any inaccuracies in your personal data by contacting the DPO.
- 12.4. You have the right to request that we erase your personal data where we were not entitled under law to process it or where it is no longer necessary to process the data for the purpose for which it was collected. You can request erasure by contacting the DPO.
- 12.5. During the process of requesting that your personal data be corrected or erased, or while you are contesting the lawfulness of our processing, you can ask for the data to be used in a restricted way only. To do this, contact the DPO.
- 12.6. You have the right to object to data processing where we rely on a legitimate interest to do so and you think that your rights and interests outweigh our own and you wish us to stop.
- 12.7. You have the right to object if we process your personal data for the purposes of direct marketing.
- 12.8. You have the right to receive a copy of your personal data and, with some exceptions, to transfer your personal data to another data controller. We will not charge for this and will, in most cases, aim to do this within one month.
- 12.9. With some exceptions, you have the right not to be subjected to automated decision-making.
- 12.10. You have the right to be notified of a data security breach concerning your personal data where that breach is likely to result in a high risk of adversely affecting your rights and freedoms.
- 12.11. In most situations, we will not rely on your consent as a lawful ground to process your data. If we do request your consent to process your personal data for a specific purpose, you have the right not to consent or to withdraw your consent later. To withdraw your consent, you should contact the DPO.
- 12.12. You have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner. You can do this by contacting the Information Commissioner's Office directly. Full contact details, including a helpline number, can be found on the Information Commissioner's Office website (www.ico.org.uk). The Information Commissioner's Office website has more information on your rights and our obligations.

13. Data retention

- 13.1. We will only retain personal data and sensitive data for as long as necessary for the purposes for which we collected it. After this time, it will be deleted or archived.

13.2. We will maintain retention policies and procedures to ensure personal data is deleted after an appropriate time unless a law requires that data to be kept for a minimum time.

13.3. We will make sure data subjects are provided with information about the period for which data is stored and how that period is determined in any applicable Privacy Notice.

14. Children's Data

14.1 Children are unable to Consent to the Processing of Personal Data for information society services. Consent must be sought from the person who holds parental responsibility over the child. However, it should be noted that where processing is lawful under other grounds, consent need not be obtained from the child or the holder of parental responsibility.

If data is being obtained over the phone then age of the Data Subject must be confirmed prior to any data processing commencing. Children are classed as up to 13 for GDPR purposes.

15. Profiling & Automated Decision-Making

15.1 The company would only engage in profiling and Automated Decision Making where it would be necessary to enter into, or to perform, a contract with the Data Subject or where it is authorised by law.

15.2 Should at some later date a site or venue of the company considers utilising profiling and automated decision-making, this will be disclosed to the relevant Data Subjects. In such cases the Data Subject will be given the opportunity to:-

- Express their point of view.
- Obtain an explanation for the automated decision.
- Review the logic used by the automated system.
- Supplement the automated system with additional data.
- Have a human carry out a review of the automated decision.
- Contest the automated decision.
- Object to the Automated Decision Making being carried out.

15.3 Each site or venue must also ensure that all Profiling and Automated Decision-Making relating to a Data Subject is based on accurate data.

15.4 Correction may include data erase and replacement with corrected or supplemented data.

16. Digital Marketing

16.1 Personal Data Processing for digital marketing purposes:

The Data Subject must be informed at the point of first contact that they have the right to object, at any stage, to having their data processed for such purposes through the use of Privacy Notices. If the Data Subject puts forward an objection, digital marketing related processing of their Personal Data must cease immediately and their details should be kept on a suppression list with a record of their opt-out decision, rather than being completely deleted.
